Rabon Sergent Primary Examiner Art Unit: 1711 Continuation of 2.: The proposed amendment to claim 33 sets forth subject matter not previously claimed and, if entered, would require further consideration and/or search. Furthermore, the amendment raises the issue of new matter.

Continuation of 5.: Applicants' response has been considered; however, it fails to overcome the prior art rejections for the following reasons. Firstly, applicants' response is based upon amendments that will not be entered. Secondly, applicants' argument with respect to octyldiphenyl phosphate sets forth no definitive evidence that the claimed compound is not encompassed by the prior art. Applicants' argument is purely speculative. Thirdly, applicants' argument that plasticizers containing branched chain groups confer unexpected and superior properties to the composition, compared to the use of plasticizers containing straight chain groups, has not been supported by means of objective evidence. Furthermore, it is noted that applicants have disclosed the use of plasticizers containing straight chain alkyl groups; therefore, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, it is argued that applicants appreciated the equivalence or interchangeability of the branched chain and straight chain plasticizers. Lastly, the positions set forth within the final Office action have been maintained for the reasons set forth therein.
